

Vanderbilt University Coding Boot Camp Enrollment Agreement

In consideration of your signature below and upon timely payment of the fees stipulated in this Enrollment Agreement, Vanderbilt University ("University"), in association with Trilogy Education Services, Inc. ("TES"), agrees to provide to you the "CODING BOOT CAMP" course (the "Course").

1. In conjunction with the Course, the University shall provide you access to the Course website along with all materials and resources necessary to successfully complete the Course. The Course is comprised of approximately 250 contact hours of computer coding skills with details set forth at <http://bootcamps.vanderbilt.edu/>(the "Website"). The Course is delivered by an Instructor and two teaching assistants.¹ You confirm that you know what the Course is about and have reviewed the Website. You understand that enrollment in the Course does not enroll you as a part- or full-time student at the University.

2. You shall pay the Course fees as described and on the payment schedule selected by you and set forth on Exhibit A (the "Payment Schedule"). If you chose payment by credit card or echeck for all or a portion of your Course fees, you authorize a charge or charges to your credit card pursuant to the Payment Schedule. All billing and collection services for the Course will be provided by TES for the University.

3. Your failure to pay pursuant to the Payment Schedule (including your credit card issuer not approving the charges for any reason) will result in the payment being declared late. You will receive late payment notifications, which may be by email, text message or by phone. Late payments may be subject to interest at a rate of 12% per annum (or the highest rate permitted by applicable law (if lower)). Once a payment is late and until your account is current, you will not have access to Career Services. Payments delinquent by more than 30 days will result in loss of access to the Course and any related technology platforms. Payments delinquent by more than 60 days may be submitted to a collections agency and may also be reported to a credit bureau. You shall bear the cost of collection if your account is sent to collections.

A deposit of Two Thousand Five Hundred dollars ($2,500) is required to secure your spot in the Course whether you pay in full or your initial payment is less than or equal to that amount. If your initial payment is less than $2,500, your spot is not reserved until you have paid the full $2,500. One Thousand Dollars ($1,000) of your deposit is not refundable. You are eligible for a refund of any fees paid in excess of One Thousand Dollars ($1,000) only within one (1) week from the start date of the Course ("Final Refund Eligibility Date"), provided that you contact TES via phone at (615) 200-1138 prior to the expiration of the one (1) week period. Once the Final Refund Eligibility Date has passed, you are liable for and required to pay the full Course fee. Non-attendance of classes does not classify as an official withdrawal, and does not relieve you of your financial obligation or entitle you to a refund. Violation of this Enrollment Agreement for any reason, including non-payment, voids your right to a refund. To the extent that applicable state law conflicts with the provisions of this section, the terms hereof shall be applied in a manner so as to be consistent with state law.

4. All Course content, teaching material, the Website, and all other material provided to you is the sole intellectual property of TES and has been provided to the University under contract solely for the use with the Course. TES' intellectual property is for your use only, shall be non-transferrable, and is intended for a single-user only. Except for rights expressly granted to you by TES in writing, TES retains all rights to title to and interest in the intellectual property. You shall not claim ownership, share, remove, copy, reproduce, disseminate or otherwise interfere with TES' rights over TES' intellectual property. To the extent that you contribute, in whole or in part, to any derivative(s), improvement(s) or modification(s), or make any suggestions, enhancement requests, recommendations, comments, feedback, ideas or the like, to TES' intellectual property ("Improvements"), you hereby assign to TES all right, title and interest in and to such Improvements.

5. You shall conduct yourself according to the University's student code of conduct and related policies set forth at https://www.vanderbilt.edu/student_handbook/university-policies-and-regulations. Please note that enrollment in the Course alone does not entitle you to the rights and privileges available to students or alumni of the University, even though the Course may be held in a University classroom and you may need a University-issued identification card to enter the classroom building. Failure to conform to the above policies shall be considered a breach of this Enrollment Agreement and the University and TES may, at the sole discretion of either, remove you from the Course.

6. All student complaints should be directed to the Student Success Manager or Student Services Team, as applicable, or, alternatively, the student may contact TES at 1-888-612-5304.²

7. The University and TES have the right to change, amend or update the Course content, duration, the Website, materials and policies at any time.

8. You grant University and TES permission to take and use visual and audio images and recordings of you in connection with the Course, including but not limited to, photographs, digital images, drawings, renderings, voices, sounds, video recordings, audio clips or accompanying written descriptions, comments and testimonials (regardless of the medium or application) (collectively, the "Materials"). You acknowledge and agree that TES or University, as applicable, shall own the Materials and all rights related to them. You grant University and TES permission to identify you and use Materials that include you in any manner or media without notifying you, including but not limited to, websites, products, publications, promotion, and broadcasts, such as social media, advertisements, posters, and presentations. You waive any right to inspect or approve of the finished images, video content or any printed or electronic matters that may be used with the Materials, or to be compensated for any use thereof.

9. You consent to our collection, use and disclosure of your Personally Identifiable Information and your Education Records as described in the Privacy Policy, available at

10. Any claim or dispute arising out of or relating hereto or our provision of the Course or the Website shall be governed by the laws of the State of Tennessee, without regard to its conflict of law provisions. You agree to submit to the personal and exclusive jurisdiction of the federal and state courts situated in Davidson County, Tennessee. You understand and agree that this Enrollment Agreement governs the relationship between you and University and TES. To the fullest extent permitted by law, you hereby waive any right you may have to participate in a class action or other proceeding against University and/or TES whereby more than one plaintiff participates in the same action. If any provision hereof is held illegal or unenforceable, such provision shall be severed and the remainder of this Enrollment Agreement shall remain operative and binding. Failure to exercise any right hereunder shall not constitute a waiver of such right. TES is authorized by the University to enforce all of the terms of this Enrollment Agreement. Any waiver of any breach hereof shall not operate as a waiver of any subsequent breaches.

11. In order to receive a certificate of completion for the Course, you must (i) fulfill your payment obligations prior to the end date of the Course, (ii) attend a minimum of 95% of the class sessions, and (iii) complete 90% of your homework assignments, including 100% of all project work.

12. Your experience with the optional TES' Career Services portion of the Course ("Career Services") will be highly influenced by the work you put into your job search. TES has a set of minimum expectations that you must meet to qualify for post-graduation Career Services support. To qualify, you must complete the Course which requires that you satisfy the requirements of Section 12 above. In addition, you must have legal status to work in the United States and must have each of the following completed and approved by Career Services prior to graduation: (i) an approved resume and (ii) a portfolio of deployed projects (which you will build in class). Once engaged with post-graduation Career Services, you must remain responsive and proactive. By opting-in to use Career Services, you hereby give permission to the Career Services team to send your approved resume and portfolio to potential employers in connection with job opportunities. You understand and agree that neither TES nor the University makes any representations or warranties regarding the results that may be achieved by completing the Course, including but not limited to job placement and salary. Neither TES nor University shall be responsible for your inability to find a job or generate revenue in connection with your enrollment in or completion of the Course.
